HAMMER & COFFIN SOCIETY CAPTURES SING'S MOST COVETED TROPHY

Here are some of their winning lyrics

(tune—"Oh Tannenbaum")

Oh Stanford Farm, oh Stanford Farm
They're moving you to Germany
Mit sauerkraut and schnitzelbaum
Und Luft der Freiheit blowing free.

We're here because we lost our nerve
We couldn't hack the Stanford curve
Now we drink and laugh and play
And, after six months, go home straight A.

(tune—"Three Prominent Debators are We")

Let's sing out our praises for Kendall
He's a strangely conservative breed
He's hearty and Hale, he's on loan from Yale
To whom we are grateful indeed.

His greatest of triumphs was Sibley
He practiced on Willie McCord
And right in between, he turned Miller green
By everyone Kendall's adored.
(then there was another verse too)

(tune—"Winnipeg Woman")

Sittin' over by the Corp Yard
There's a group that's weak and wailly
It's the Peninsula's morning paper
Better known as the Stanford Daily.

On the table every mornin'
It's included in tuition
Better read it with your breakfast
Takes your mind off malnutrition.

They've a plan on which they're workin'
Print it up on old Scott Tissue
Hang it 'round where it's convenient
Get more readers every issue.

The hillbilly, with a dizzy blonde hanging on his arm, took the pen handed him by the hotel clerk and signed the register with an X. With a thoughtful look on his face, he hesitated, then circled the X.

"A lot of people sign with an X," said the clerk, "but this is the first time I've ever seen one circled."

"T'aint nothing so dadburn odd about it," replied the hayseed, "when I'm runnin' around with wild women I don't use my right name."

Four out of five women haters are women.

"Do you have a faculty for making love?"

"No, we have a student body."

Dean: "Know you? Why I knew you when your mother was kicked out of college."

All a sweater does for some girls is make them itch.

Hollywood story: The actress rushed into the house screaming to her husband: "Darling come quickly! Your children and mine are beating up our children!"

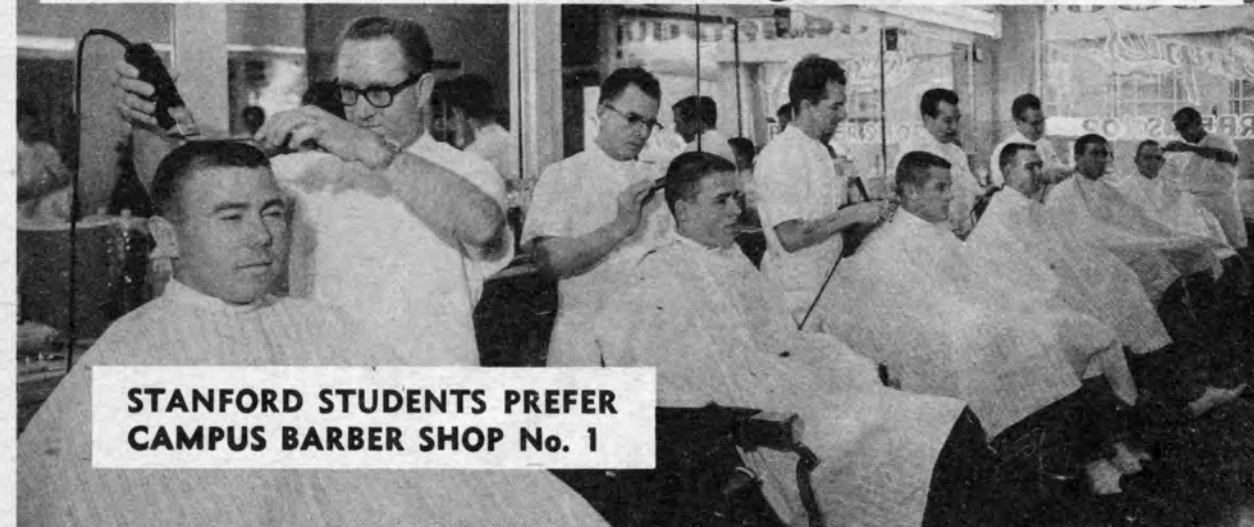

The farmer skimped and saved to send his son to Medical College. The boy wrote home that he had decided to specialize in Obstetrics. The farmer flew into a rage. "The boy's a fool to specialize these days," he fumed. "What with all these new miracle drugs, they're finding a cure for everything, and that boy's going to find himself out of a job!"

"Do they applaud more if you let out early on the last day Professor?"

NOW THAT, despite any and all our objections, June has finally forced us to reckon with finals, separations, weddings, work, and whatnot, and now that few of us will be able to really do well by all the above, the Ancient One proposes his annual spoof of the pulps as a mild diversion suited to entertain those with the mentality of Herb Caen. The rest of us will find much to enjoy too, but, of course, this won't always be as abundant as in issues past. "We get our kicks!"

June, being the end of the year for Volume 60, is also credit-where-credit-is-due month. The two long-suffering geni of the staff have been Art Editor Doug Newton and Managing Editor Ray Funkhouser. Fortunately for the Chaparral, both these bright wits will be back next year, Ray as Editor-in-Chief, and Doug returns as Art Editor. Ray is largely responsible for the February IBM parody and the articles in that issue which caused it to sell out. Doug has brought us fame with his covers and cartoons which are constantly being stolen or copied.

On the Biz side next year, Frank Kelly heads the right hand side of our Masthead as Business Manager. Advertising Manager will be Bill Crowell. He will have to take deadline guff from Andrew Schwarz, Andy will be our Ad Sales Manager. In the key position of Circulation Manager will go old timer Bill Corbus. He will be assisted by our new Subscription Manager, Ed Tucker.

Getting back to the editorial side of Volume 61 we find Al Dodworth will be our Managing Editor. Al held this position for the first three issues of Volume 60. (He was kicked upstairs.) Photo Editor goes to Chuck Landis. (So was he.) Associate Editors next year will be John Frankenstein (who has no kick coming, he says). "Duke" Rinehart (who has no place to kick) and Ward McAfee (he doesn't seem to either). Then we have the Associate Art Editors in the persons of Drew Fagan (a reliable old-timer) and Chris Whorf (who'd ever of thought another Whorf would make it?) This leaves only Rusty Williams and Steve Merchant to be accounted for. They are our Associate Photo Editors (for which there is some accounting being undertaken).

"It's her new holier-than-thou attitude that I can't stand."

The key Hammer and Coffin positions have been nailed down by Bob d'Alessio (he'll be National Secretary Treasurer and in charge of keeping the Quad on good terms with us, i.e., financial terms) and James Gleason (he'll be Secretary-Treasurer; this means he gets to buy the party liquids at no small personal profit). And naturally the Women are important. Mary Lou Clark (she's mainly Ray's girl but she thinks she was elected because of her tireless efforts on Chappie's behalf) will be Womens Manager of the H&C Auxiliary. Norma Auer (she's mainly devoted to Old Boys but she thinks she wasn't even remembered at election time) will be their Secretary-Treasurer.

In case you didn't see them carrying their Hammers, the new men include Mort Hardwick, Bob Boivan, Andrew Schwarz, Will Rinehart, Will Crowell, Ed Tucker, and Chuck Landis, Rusty Williams, and Chris Whorf.

Now that wiser heads continue in not prevailing, the Ancient One wishes to offer his sincerest sympathies to those poor unfortunates who will be spending their last year or two in the house they dread the most, be it Lag or Stillman. . . . The year has seen many changes, and it is too bad that some of them will have unfortunate outcomes. Of course there are some changes that should have taken place and that didn't, too. The Daily should be radically changed. It should be eradicated. It has proven insipid and ineffectual. To those who continue to suffer through its invented problems, the Ancient One promises a stepped up fight to rid the campus of this pest in 1959-1960. And for those of you whose problems seem insoluble, the Chappie pledges consolation and continued fine humor.

For his last queen of the year the Old Boy returns once again to Branner Hall wherein resides one of this campus' cutest 5' 5" brunettes. Miss Mary Ann (no nicknames) Zannon also boasts lovely blue eyes, although one must get nicely near to them before the secret reveals itself. If one wishes to do so, and should Mary Ann be studying very hard now that finals are so near, you should note that she plans to spend the summer at home, in Santa Monica. If you like to swim or dance you will find her most pleasant company. To start conversation, comment on her lack of fear of earthquakes. Or on her spelling ability. She relaxes by playing the piano, and playing very nicely too. Those of you who are still interested should be reassured of the fact that the negative of the queen shot is not backwards, and thus that ring is on the right-hand; just an heirloom.

"That is terrible, William," sighed the priest. "What did your wife have to say?"
"Ah, Father, that's what really hurt," moaned the poor man. "She looked at me with those clear blue eyes of hers and she said, 'There's old blabbermouth! Now the whole neighborhood will know!'"

The junior member of a law firm was out of town to try a case. "Let me know as soon as a verdict is reached," counselled the senior partner.
About a week later, the senior partner received a telegram reading: "Justice has triumphed."
Without hesitation the senior partner wired back: "Appeal at once."

Nine-year-old David hurried off to school one morning before his mother inspected his wash job. So, when he sat down in the classroom, breakfast was still visible on his face.
The teacher frowned and said reprovingly: "David, you didn't wash your face. What would you say if I came to school one morning with egg and jam around my mouth?"
"Nothing," he retorted smugly. "Nothing at all. I'd be too polite."

Then there was the bitter golf match between two Scots under a boiling sun, in which one of them had a stroke—and the other made him count it.

I recently heard about three student nurses who were very late getting back into the hospital one night. As they were slipping in, they met three interns coming out. "Shh," the girls said, "we're coming in after hours."

"That's okay," replied the interns, "we're just going out after ours."

A little Protestant boy came home with a big black eye. "Where on earth did you get that black eye?" his mother asked.

"The Murphy kids hung it on me," he said.

"How did they come to do that?"
 "Well, I was over at their house making some cracks about the Pope."

"Didn't you know the Murphy's were Catholics?"

"Yes, but I didn't know the Pope was."

Pedro: "Pancho. I theenk I weel sheep 100 bools to the beeg bool fight in Mexico City."

Pancho still remains quiet.

Pedro (hitting the bench with his fist in anger): "Pancho, I theenk I weel sheep 200 bools to the beeg bool fight in Mexico City. What do you theenk of that?"

Pancho: "I theenk you are one beeg bool sheeper."

A group of Russians stood at the Pearly Gates. "Amazing!" said St. Peter, "But you can't come in. You're atheists."

"Who wants to come in?" replied the Russian spokesman. "We just want our dog back."

A Kappa Sig was passing by Agnew in his Ford when he suffered a flat. He began to change the tire and noticed an inmate watching him. He tried to ignore this, but it bothered him so much that he misplaced all the lugs that hold the tire on. He was at a loss as to what to do.

"Why don't you take one lug off each tire and put them on the one you are fixing. That way you can at least drive to a service station," suggested the inmate.

"That is a very good suggestion. I can't understand why they have you in there."

"Why hell, man, I'm crazy . . . not stupid."

"Am I the first girl you ever kissed?"
 "Now that you mention it, you do look familiar."

A girl wearing a low-cut v-neck sweater was approached by a wolf.

"Is that for Victory?" he asked.
 "No, it's for virtue," she replied. "But it's an old sweater."

Larry Moore models a hopsack beach coat by Izod. $10.95 at David Hinkley.

It takes the average armadillo trainer 6 months to paddle a kayak from Tombstone to Tucson

Strangely enough, that's the same amount of time you can
have to pay
at R/A. You need nothing but a reg card to get a charge!

L&M is LOW
in tar

with
taste to it

Don't settle for one without the other!

©1959 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO COMPANY

"L&M is kindest to your taste because L&M combines the two essentials of modern smoking," says TV's Jack Lescoulie.

LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke... makes L&M truly low in tar.

MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow-burning tobaccos brings you more exciting taste than any other cigarette.
